13 July 2011

To whom it may concern.

I confirm that Tara Nair was employed as a Software Engineer with Ocean Blue Software (HK) from 8 January 2009 to 31 July 2011.
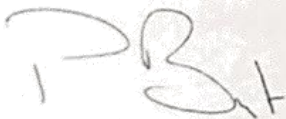

During that time Tara helped develop various internal (R&D) and customer led Digital TV projects. The majority of development was using C programming language for embedded platforms and PC based tools.

Her responsibilities included integrating Ocean Blue core Digital TV software components to various hardware platforms; the development and testing of user interface modifications to various customer projects. Her role involved customer and partner liaison, software coding, debugging and maintenance.

Tara was a reliable member of staff with a good attendance record. Her performance and attitude was at all times satisfactory.

If you require further information please do contact me.

Yours faithfully

Peter Boyt

Engineering Director